DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 59-60, drawn to a method of decontaminating a non-conducting surface wherein a conducting backing is provided for the non-conducting surface, classified in class 422, subclass 28.
 - II. Claim 61, drawn to an apparatus for decontamination having a temperature control system, classified in class 422, subclass 292.
 - III. Claims 62-66, drawn to a method for decontaminating a surface wherein a portable barrier is provided to attract overspray, classified in class 422, subclass 28.
 - IV. Claims 67-68, drawn to a method for decontaminating a surface wherein a barrier having an entrance and exit is provided and an air flow is established between the entrance and exit, classified in class 422, subclass 28.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I, III, and IV and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case it is clear that the methods of inventions I, III, and IV do not require the system of invention II, as none require temperature control of the photosensitizer.

Art Unit: 1744

3. Inventions I, III, and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are three different methods of decontaminating and all have different modes of operation. Invention I is directed to non-conducting surfaces specifically. Invention III is directed to the collection of overspray using a charged or grounded barrier and Invention IV is directed to removal of overspray from a barrier enclosure using an air flow.
4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Groups III and IV is not required for Groups I and II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II is not required for Groups I, III, and IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group IV is not required for Groups III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
